

Why we exist:

The job market is dominated by platforms that serve employers first—they get paid to promote certain jobs regardless of fit. JobLeads exists to champion job seekers. We put power back into candidates' hands by creating a platform that works exclusively for them, not recruiters or companies.

What we do:

JobLeads helps professionals find roles that truly match their skills and career ambitions. We analyze each person's unique profile to recommend relevant opportunities from our database of 10+ million jobs. Beyond public listings, our network of 40,000+ headhunters provides access to hidden opportunities. We equip job seekers to stand out—from crafting tailored resumes and cover letters to mastering interviews with expert guidance and tools.

Operating in 40+ countries with 12+ million users, JobLeads combines almost 20 years of experience with modern technology to make job searching more efficient and effective. We're here to help professionals take control of their careers on their own terms.